

Some Maths Websites- Primary

Scoilnet Irish schools website. Maths content for both primary and post primary

Maths Dictionary An interactive mathematical dictionary which explains the language of Maths in simple terms, often with accompanying tasks for the pupil to demonstrate understanding.

NRICH Site includes a weekly problem that pupils can attempt to solve, a search by topic option and research and journal papers in the area of Maths.

Count On! There are lots of fun, interactive games for pupils to play on this website, including Shape Invaders, Maths Circus, and Maths Fighter, Who wants to be a Mathonaire? ... and many more.

Star Tower Poor old duck is having trouble putting numbers in the right order. Can the pupil help her? Other options for example include '-The Sums Dispenser' which creates sets of 10 sums - The teacher can choose the type of sum and the level of difficulty.

Primary Games Maths games for 1 or 2 players, mostly for number bonds practice and mental-Maths including fractions and decimals.

Tangrams Pupils can drag and drop the seven Chinese puzzle pieces into place to create shapes and solve problems. From Utah State University.

Measuring Angles Pupils can learn how to use a protractor and measure angles.

Games, activities and resources to help pupils in mastering the timetables can be downloaded here

Learning Planet A collection of free games and learning activities. Choose pupil level, and then choose from games like Maths Mayhem

Rounding Flashcards Pupils can round numbers to the nearest ten for example

Math Magician Pupils can practice the basic skills of +, -, x and ÷

Count Us In A site which has lots of games designed to help teach basic number concepts

NZMaths This site has lots of ideas and lesson exemplars

Place Value worksheets can be downloaded here

The Primary Professional Development Service has useful information on the teaching of Maths